Europe Wonders
Cheap Money Wanted
Expensive Makeshift
Student Examinations

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Sweden announces "probably unemployed" Italy and France know nothing about unemployment, England and Germany have almost completely overcome it, France never had more than a "1,000,000" idle and groans over that problem. What is the matter with the United States? A new country, still counting more than nine millions idle.

Admitting the existence of two or even three millions of idle, we have living next door under unusual circumstances, why are the remaining six or seven millions still out of work?

Europe, Asia and Africa all that question, as do many in America. United States resources are not one half developed. United States still is not one half used; there ought to be SOMETHING in such a country, to supply work for the nine millions idle. Europe, everywhere overworked, lacking raw products, undeveloped resources, keeps her nose working. This country that underdeveloped PRODUCTION better than any other, seems not to understand DISTRIBUTION. That is one trouble.

Then, the new French Socialist prime minister, must satisfy rebellious French labor. Wages will be increased 7 to 15 percent, the working week reduced to 40 hours, without reduction in pay. French manufacturers say they will endeavor to meet conditions, but "you must give us cheaper France if you want us to pay more France." It is easy to spend and pay more money, if you have cheaper money. Germany realized that when it cost millions in inflated marks to send a letter from Berlin to London.

Japan possessing brains, energy and cheap labor is rapidly taking the United States export market for cotton goods. Where we once sold cotton cloth, Japan sells it now. Our textile industry suggests a bounty of seven cents a pound on all cotton goods exported. This would cost $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 annually. That would be one way of meeting competition, not a permanent method.

Necessity always calls forth human ingenuity. The big war, with no foreign cheap imports, taught the United States to make most excellent "Camembert" and other cheeses.

Lack of foreign money prevents adequate purchases of wool by Germany, and German women are wearing a cloth made from "quintessential chemicals." It is reported that the new material, "quintessential" is almost equal to real wool, with warmth, strength and appearance.

In addition to teaching the United States how to make wool, the big war has taught the nations to lack nitrogen from the air. There is enough up there to make every field of earth fertile, able to provide enough explosive to kill the entire human race.

So-called "education," plus examinations may be worse than "ignorance." A student, 15 years old, in high school, believed that he had failed to pass his examinations and drew his brains out. It would have been better for him if he had gone to work at 16.

Some intelligent young educators should do something about the prolonged strain of examinations, well calculated to protect the interests of the older students. For instance, saving consecutive hours of college examinations, waiting up to a difficult mathematical examination, that thousands of boys have gone through, who are in a criminally foolish arrangement and should be changed.

What is responsible for this habit, or the desire to get through "in a hurry?"

England is "burning a stick" to the Queen Mary. The same builders who endeavor to produce a better ship, the British system works well, foreigners build the ships with anticorrosion from their countries, England, France, Italy, the United States supplies the passengers and the insurance, taking on such ships of its own.

That Japan fall in to Europe. Perhaps real money flying into Asia, and this it will.

England is annoyed by the information given out in the House of Commons that the British firm, are ordered built in Germany. Fifty-two ships to be paid for with English money are building in Germany now, while the British ship yards are in a bad way, perhaps because Germans can build as well or better or more cheaply.

Not all of the English are sentimental, when it comes to the question of money.

ROOSEVELT WAITS FOR KNOX

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt will wait for Gov. Frank Knox to arrive in Des Moines today for his fourth conference with Gov. A.H. M. Landon and officials of midwestern states.

A crowd estimated by Highway Patrol Chief John Higley cheered the President as he appeared on the rear platform of his train.

President Landon was expected to arrive in Des Moines today for a seven-day visit after a possible automobile drive from Tokyo.

Wes Ferrell After 18th Victory

By JOE CASIMIAN
Fenway Park, Sept. 3.—Joe Cronin's Red Sox and Chicago's White Sox ran off their final 1936 engagements in a double header here this afternoon witnessed by a slim crowd of 200.

Time was called at two ends of the 9th inning, because of rain, with the White Sox leading 3 to 2.

FIRST INNING
CHICAGO—Hayes fled to Wes Ferrell, who singled to center. Hayes singled. Flans went to second, when R. Ferrell threw over W. Ferrell's head on a return pitch.

Hot Words Enliven Bigney Hearing

Three witnesses testified before the state hallor law commission today that signatures on the nomination papers of Robert E. Bigney, candidate for governor's council, were not their own.

Bigney is opposing Councilor Daniel H. Crocker and his party are under protest by John J. Bigney, inspired, Bigney claims, by Crocker.

Another in the series of hot verbal exchanges between Leo D. Walsh, accused Bigney in presenting his case, broke into an exchange between Bigney and Francis W. Bigney, commission member. Charles H. McGuire, chairman, warned Bigney.

For you, you step out of the box and let him in the pitch hitting. We don't want any chorus sung here.

Ann Marsters Writes: Richman's Career Ever Romantic

HARRY RICHMAN. (From International News Service Service.)

Last Minute Checking of Course
This is the first of a series of stories on the Life and Romances of Harry Richman written by Boston's noted girl reporter.

By ANN MARSTERS
There were many who thought he wouldn't dare to do it—but he did. There were those who thought of him as only Hollywood's singing playboy—with no need for an unusual amount of physical courage.

But he fooled all such people when he started out last night on a round-trip flight to London.

120 Girls Are Massacred

London, Sept. 3 (IS)—One hundred and twenty well-to-do girls have been massacred in Madrid, it was announced by a Spanish inspired radio station, according to today's London Daily Mail.

Thirty priests of the so-called "Red Army" are being held in London, Sept. 3 (IS)—Chancellor of Exchequer is planning a bloodless purge of the Nazi party, the London Daily Mirror said today.

Two hundred thousand members were expelled from party ranks following the forthcoming Nuremberg conference as a result of acquiescence of the German secret police, said the Mirror.

RICHMAN'S PLANE DOWN IN WALES. MEN SAFE

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent.
Croyden, Eng., Sept. 3 (IS)—Cheated of their goal by a scant few hundred miles, Dick Merrill and Harry Richman landed at Wilyncynay, South Wales, this afternoon after bridging the Atlantic Ocean from New York in record time.

Both Merrill, veteran air mail and transport pilot, and Richman, top-hat Broadway crooner, were reported safe and unharmed.

Poor visibility encountered after they set a new record for the flight from New York to the coast of Ireland compelled Merrill to set the low-lying Vlies monoplane down on an open field.

Shortage of fuel also contributed to failure of the plane to reach its destination.

Merrill effected a three-point landing, however, and the sports craft, with minor structural damage, is being towed to its base.

STOCK EAS

New York, Sept. 3 (IS)—The stock market turned irregularly lower today under persistent price-taking.

Crushing and rain early today, turned soon in the afternoon, with the later morning rains and powerful winds, with no real traditional values.

Richman's Career Ever Romantic

plotted by Dick Merrill, took off from New York yesterday afternoon. They took the plane, and suddenly were lost with no signal system. And so the rest of the world.

There would hardly be two hours of more different ways in which Merrill and Richman—one of the highways and the other of flight—ways, Merrill the quiet writer at 25000 miles of silent flying—and Richman, flying solo and the way and money also, who had been "bought" by the plane, or even from London through Radio, and without flying.

One should be too surprised at the idea of this Richman as a romantic hero. For he has been and done a fairly wide assortment of things during his life.

Besides his theatrical career, he has been a diplomat, a writer, a musician and a "good salesman."

as we might as well go back to the day of Richman's birth, 1910, was born Harry Richman in Cleveland, O. on October 10, 1910. At 14 he was a tall, thin, dark boy, and was already working as a lifeguard. It was then that he had his first romance, attracted to the girl of his dream, perhaps because of his height, and because of his dark hair, and because he was a lifeguard.

Good Salesman

But the young Harry didn't think there'd be much of a future in selling, so he turned from the call of sea and sailed between chaffing and selling dresses. He did make well as a salesman because of the deep, persuasive and pleasant tone of his voice.

Meanwhile, Harry discovered that he could sing. He could sing with a group, with a chorus, and he could sing solo. He had a good voice, and he was a good singer.

At last came an opportunity for him to sing. He had a chance to sing in a chorus, and he was a good singer. He was a good singer, and he was a good singer.

most sang down the curtain on it. Then—then Richman began to sing—after a fashion. He drifted around the country singing popular songs in western barns, in saloons and elsewhere. The women loved him. He developed a way with women that no one on Broadway has been able to imitate successfully. Which reminds me of Max Baer's struggle to imitate Harry Richman.

Baer's Idol

Richman was, and perhaps still is, Baer's idol. The fighter tried to copy the crooner in dress and in manner and in speech. And he was not a crooner, to that he can't sing like Richman.

To get back to our story—after a season in two in vaudeville, as planned for the Radio shows, Richman was what gave him the idea of becoming a radio star. He was a radio star, and he was a radio star.

At that time radio was first coming to the front, and Richman broadcast every night from the radio. He worked hard and almost constantly for the sum of $40 a week.

The time passed, and Harry Richman, at only 25, became a great success. That success really began when George White started him in the 1930 "Scandals." His first salary was $100 a week, and White raised it to $1200 before the end of the run.

The time Richman is now in New York was spent at that time, and Richman's income from the show, combined with his "Scandals" salary, brought him earnings to $7500 a week.

Yes—Harry Richman was "in the money." He was also New York's favorite playboy—and most persistent of the Broadway radio-breakers.

(Tomorrow the loves of Harry Richman will be told by Miss Marsters.)

Harry Richman's Log

'Everything O. K.' Hourly Radio

New York, Sept. 3 (US)—Hour by hour, in brief, dramatic flashes, the "log" of the flight to London was radioed by Harry Richman and Dick Merrill over their short-wave transmitter.

Two-way communication was maintained between the glider monoplane and Eastern Air Line headquarters in Newark. The plane's call letters are KHAR1—Eastern Air's station, WEEF.

The first message came at 6 p. m. (E. D. T.) Merrill signaled: "KHAR1 calling WEEF at Newark. KHAR1 calling WEEF, Newark."

When the Newark station flashed that it was tuned in, the message came:

"Flying at 6000 feet, 252 miles out from Floyd Bennett field, over Cape Ann. Everything O. K."

At 7:04 p. m.

"Flying 8000 feet. Averaging 196 miles an hour; 481 miles from Floyd Bennett. Everything O. K. Being helped by a tail wind."

Other messages:

8 p. m.—"7200 miles. Flying by instruments. Weather's fine. Altitude, 9400. Scattered clouds."

9 p. m.—"Position, 1025 miles out. Flying on top of an overcast altitude, 10,000 feet. Receiving Newark O. K. Everything O. K."

Newark asked if the fliers had eaten anything yet. The answer came back:

"No, we'll wait a little while."

The 10 p. m. message:

"1114 miles out. Altitude, 10,000 feet. Still flying above an overcast."

At 11 p. m.—"Flying at 10,000 making 200 m. p. h., thirteen hundred miles from New York. Moon's just come out and looks clear."

At midnight, with Richman at the microphone:

"1071 miles out. Altitude 10,000 feet. We are going to eat. Dick and I are going to have a sandwich. Everything O. K. Very good visibility."

At 2 a. m. (E. D. T.) the fliers radioed:

"1900 miles from New York. Flying blind. 10,000 feet altitude. Radio not working very well. Everything else O. K."

At 3 o'clock this morning, Richman radioed:

"Still flying above clouds at 10,000 feet. All well."

At 4 o'clock, Richman said:

"We are speeding along at 133 miles an hour at an altitude of 10,000 feet. All O. K."

U. S. PLANS BIG SHIP PROGRAM

Washington, Sept. 3 (AP)—Counting that 350 new ships are needed to put the American merchant marine on even terms with foreign vessels, shipping board officials reported today they are laying tentative groundwork for a large construction program.

Preparing preliminary data for the new maritime commission, officials said they have found that new merchant ships of all classes are needed.

The new five-member commission created under the ship subsidy law enacted by the last Congress after a bitter controversy, has not yet been appointed by President Roosevelt.

When it does begin functioning, officials said, foundation work for the new construction program will have been accomplished.

They said the cooperation of private operators will be necessary to carry out the expansion. If they should approve of the program and plan full advantage of the preferred subsidies, it was said, as much as $500,000,000 might be spent for new construction.

Under the new law, the United States will pay direct subsidies to operators to build and run ships. This plan replaces a system of indirect subsidies given in the form of payments for carrying the mail on the sea.

Tennis Balls in Wings of Plane

New York, Sept. 3 (AP)—"Lady France," the Richman-Merrill monoplane, contains one of the largest collections of table tennis balls ever assembled.

All available spaces in the wing tips and the tail of the ship were stuffed with the tiny balls before the takeoff from Floyd Bennett field.

No one kept accurate count on how many balls were used, but Dick Merrill estimated they numbered about 6000.

The idea of the balls was to give increased "floatation" in case the plane was forced down at sea. The big extra gas tanks, from which the fuel could be drained in a few seconds, would furnish the main floating life.

Mrs. B. N. Duke, 80, Dies in Durham

Durham, N. C., Sept. 3 (AP)—Flora at Duke University was at last laid to rest for Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Duke, 80, a member of the wealthy tobacco and power company which endowed the school.

Mrs. Duke, widow of B. N. Duke, died last night. Her husband died seven years ago. He made numerous bequests to educational and benevolent institutions, and in 1923 his net estate was valued at $12,400,000.

EAST BOSTON JUDGE HURT

Judge Anthony A. Cantorich, special justice of the East Boston district court, was injured on his way to the courthouse today when his car was in collision with a truck.

His sister-in-law, Miss Isabelle Voss, 19, of Lynn street, Malden, was riding with him, was more severely hurt.

The collision occurred in Barnstable street, near Trident street.

Judge Cantorich suffered a painful injury to his right knee. He continued to the courthouse and summoned his family physician.

Miss Voss, suffering from a fracture of the right knee, laceration of head and face, was taken to East Boston relief hospital.

Children To Have Brockton Day

Special features for children have long been the rule at Brockton Fair and this year there will be an unusually long list of attractions.

Because the great display will open on the evening of Monday, Sept. 14, the custom for many years of giving the opening day over to the youngsters will not prevail, but they will have their day on Tuesday.

There will be a flag raising, followed by grammar and junior high school athletic events and a miniature aircraft tourney. Next will come bicycle races on the track and a soap box derby which will provide plenty of fun for spectators.

In addition there will be a bicycle parade to the fair, starting from Perkins Park in Campello. At the grounds, prizes will be awarded for the best decorated "bikes" ridden in the parade by boys and girls.

All the schools in the district will close on Tuesday, Sept. 15.

Nine persons, three of them children, were overcome and some 50 others were driven from their homes today as noxious fumes spread through a large apartment house in Glenview avenue, Rochester.

Presence of the fumes in the building was discovered by Miss Marion Gallant, 29, resident of a first floor suite, who awakened, coughing and gasping for breath. She notified police and aroused many occupants before she was severely affected by the fumes that, she recalled,

Police summoned three fire department companies, who aided in bringing occupants to safety.

Those affected by the fumes in addition to Miss Gallant were Mrs. Freda Schultz, 37, and her two children, Sarah, 7, and Esther, 3; Jennie White, 11; Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Sibbet, Miss Vera Leaf and Miss Emma Leaf.

Dr. Joseph W. Devine, police department surgeon, administered first aid treatment to the victims.

Europe Now Awaiting Start of New World War

Arthur Brisbane, now in Europe observing the political conflicts there with the eye of a trained American journalist, reports in the newly-issued October Cosmopolitan: 'Europe, waiting for its main event, the next world war, has been watching preliminaries: the knockout of Haile Selassie by Mussolini in a few rounds, and the savage, bloody civil war that rages in Spain. The question is, WHE will the next fight come?'

Of the rebel leader in Spain he

"General Franco is a fighting leader, ready to be killed, but his face lacks the power of a Mussolini or a Stalin; there is probably back of him, planning and thinking while he fights and makes speeches, some deeper mind."

EINSTEIN WON'T ATTEND FETE AT HARVARD

Scientist attending the Harvard anniversary, means of them coming from distant parts of the globe were disappointed to find that the famous physicist, Albert Einstein, would not be present at the fete to be held tomorrow and next days.

Dr. Einstein is a letter to the anniversary officials from Princeton, where he is teaching and working at the Institute of Advanced Studies, explaining that his wife is very ill and for that reason he cannot leave Princeton.

PAPER SCHEDULED
He was to have read a paper on "The Approximate and Rigorous Solution of the Field Equations." Meanwhile, stars fell on Harvard's anniversary, for Einstein was to be the guest of honor.

More than 300 leading American and European astronomers—all members of the American Astronomical Association—will attend Harvard's anniversary to honor Einstein, who has been leading away for the great physicists.

And when they were present they displayed lantern slides and photographs of their work. The more ancient astronomers had packed on a 40-inch telescope, and some had taken pictures in the observatory.

OMEGA CENTAURI
The stars and planets visible in the night sky were the subject of a lecture by Dr. J. H. P. van den Hul, of the University of Chicago, who is the director of the Omega Centauri.

YELLOW PERIL
Check an eye which said the professors, and then found out that the eye was not the eye of a yellow peril, but the eye of a yellow peril.

Several other unknown and common birds were identified, through photographs taken on Mt. Locust. Papers were read by the professors explaining the nature of the bird in the photograph.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE
Caused by Tired Kidneys
Many of those growing, dragging, painful backaches, which are often caused by tired kidneys, will be relieved by the use of the famous Backache Remedy.

2 MORE DEAD IN MINE

6 Others Are Also Feared Lost

Lebanon, Va., Sept. 3 (AP)—An explosion in the McBeck Mine today killed two men and injured six others, according to reports from the mine.

The mine is one of the largest in the state, and the explosion was the worst in its history. The mine is owned by the McBeck Mining Company.

The explosion occurred at about 10:30 a.m. and was heard for miles around. The mine is located in the western part of the state.

The explosion was caused by a gas leak, and the mine was closed for several days. The mine is one of the largest in the state, and the explosion was the worst in its history.

BISHOP URGES SUPPORT FOR COUGHLIN

New York, Sept. 3 (AP)—Bishop Michael J. Gallagher of Detroit returned from Rome today asserting that the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin was free to continue his political activities and urging the radio priest's followers to continue to rally behind him.

Naturally, the Michigan prelate said, authorities at the Vatican were displeased at Father Coughlin's calling President Roosevelt a "liar," in violation of principles of the church opposing attacks upon constituted governmental authority.

WELCOME BISHOP
A hundred or more New York members of the National Union for Social Justice, Father Coughlin's organization, had gathered at the dock to greet the bishop and the priest as they descended the gangplank. Spokesmen presented the prelate with a bunch of roses and, in the hubbub of the pier, the bishop addressed them.

"It is the voice of God speaking through the Holy Father and reaching you through the orator of Royal Oak," he said.

"I hope you never lose courage and continue to rally behind him until victory rests on the banners of the National Union for Social Justice," he said.

GIVES INTERVIEW
Earlier, while the Rex was steaming up the harbor from quarantine, Bishop Gallagher sat in a rooming house and gave an interview to the press.

He was asked about an editorial appearing in yesterday's issue of the Chicago Tribune, in which the Vatican organ, calling Father Coughlin for calling President Roosevelt a "liar."

"Why do they attack me much importance to this story? One version read this morning admits that the editorial was neither official nor semi-official."

"If anyone asks if the Vatican approved of Father Coughlin's calling the President a liar, the answer would be no."

Father Coughlin's speeches were never discussed unless I brought up the subject, and I never discussed Father Coughlin with any of the heads of the church.

NO MENTION BY POPE
"Because this is a presidential election, and a great deal of importance has been attached to nothing. Anyone can say the Holy See does not approve of anybody calling the President a liar, whether he deserves it or not. That is self-evident, and can be found in any book on ecclesiastical etiquette."

"The Holy Father did not mention Father Coughlin. As long as the Vatican does not find fault we assume everything is healthy. There will be nothing done to restrain Father Coughlin's activities."

Father Coughlin's speeches were never discussed unless I brought up the subject, and I never discussed Father Coughlin with any of the heads of the church.

SAVING AMOSKEAG

$500,000 Down Payment Made

As a "good faith" down payment on their offer of $500,000 for the physical assets of the bankrupt Amoskeag Manufacturing Co., a group of Manchester, N. H., citizens today tendered a certified check for $50,000 to the liquidating trustees in Boston.

The payment was made at the federal building by a group headed by Arthur E. Morse, former mayor of Manchester and president of Amoskeag Industries, Inc., which was chartered yesterday for the purpose of taking over the mill.

Trustees William Park Brown, Joseph P. Carney and Frederic C. Humaine accepted the check. Their approval of the transaction is expected to be made to Arthur Black, federal bankruptcy referee.

Black may then certify Federal Judge George F. Peckham to record the action of the Amoskeag plant which was scheduled for October 12.

With Morse and actually paying the check, was Harry L. Davis, treasurer of Amoskeag Industries, Inc. Others all prominent in Manchester, attended.

State of the Amoskeag mill, which business is a unit, and of the water power and equipment in public utility for $225,000, and the division of remaining physical assets of the cotton textile business among other industries is forecast in the transaction.

Referring to the action of the executive committee of the A. F. of L., which has ordered the suspension of all unions identified with the C. I. O. effective on Saturday, Lewis said:

"One can only hope that they are prepared to accept the responsibility of their own action. The only crime of which we are accused is the attempt to organize regular workers and make them members of the American Federation of Labor."

LEWIS TO PRESS UNION FIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, returned from Europe today ready to carry on the fight for industrial unionism in the face of opposition from the American Federation of Labor on Saturday.

Although he declined to say what action his committee, the industrial organization would take, Lewis made it clear he had not altered his stand on the issue which has split the ranks of organized labor.

FACTS every driver should know

Deaths from automobile accidents at night have increased 37% in the past six years.

Deaths from daylight mishaps have decreased 12%.

It's nearly all the reports of these night-time accidents, there is evidence that someone was driving faster than his eyes could see, or in darkness that wasn't dispelled by headlights or highway illumination.

Human eyes are not like owl eyes. Light rays from headlights do not bend around curves or over hills.

The facts urge every driver who has any thought for himself and his fellow-men to slow down when the sun goes down; to have two self-imposed speed limits—one for clear days, a slower one for nights and bad weather.

Fear the dark as you would a fog, a snow, or a heavy rain.

reports of various night-time accidents:
"Ran into rear of truck."
"Didn't see pedestrian till too late to stop."
"Loose gravel threw car off road." Machine turned over twice."
"Blinded by oncoming headlights," crashed car ahead that was slowing down for turn."
"Hit bridge abutment."
"Crashed into wreck of two cars," that had collided ten minutes earlier."
And so they go—mostly variations of the fact that people were underestimating their headlights, that they couldn't stop within the range of their own vision.

LANDON MEETS ROOSEVELT FOR TALK ON DROUTH

GOVERNOR HAS LUNCH WITH PRESIDENT

At the outskirts of the town, a narrow road strung across the drier-looking "land for drouth."

The Republican presidential nominee greeted Governor Landon at the house, before he went into a bathroom, where he said: "Better land now."

'Better Land Use' Drouth Remedy, Says President

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 3 (AP)—President Hoover, who stepped into the drouth-stricken country to see a drouth-stricken country.

"In a nutshell this drouth problem comes down to three words: 'Better land use.'"

Speaking from the rear platform of his special train, Mr. Hoover said, "The drouth-stricken country is not a new thing. It has happened before. It is a result of the failure to use the land properly. It is a result of the failure to use the land properly. It is a result of the failure to use the land properly."

"But," said the president, "as you know I'm having a conference with the States and the Federal Government, so I'm going to have a pretty busy afternoon and evening."

"As you know I have been out in the territory for a long time. I have seen the drouth-stricken country. I have seen the drouth-stricken country. I have seen the drouth-stricken country."

"I have seen the drouth-stricken country. I have seen the drouth-stricken country. I have seen the drouth-stricken country. I have seen the drouth-stricken country."

BRITISH BUDGET BALANCE TO BE RETAINED

Washington, Sept. 3 (AP)—Taking particular note of what he called "times and conditions" abroad, Secretary Morgenthau said today the treasury would retain its present high working balance at the billion dollar level as "insurance" against emergencies.

At an early morning press conference, Morgenthau announced that the treasury would seek $400,000,000 in new cash in a financing operation September 15.

At the same time, he said, new treasury obligations will be offered for $314,000,000 of 15 per cent bonds maturing on that date.

Called into the secretary's office before many government employees were at work, newsmen were told that, because of conditions abroad, Morgenthau felt it "very desirable" to follow the existing policy of keeping a high working balance in the treasury's general fund.

The working balance, which is ready cash in the treasury's till, now stands at around the billion dollar level.

Speaking with emphasis, Morgenthau said that the treasury would seek $400,000,000 in new cash in a financing operation September 15.

Excellent Restricted Diet And Instructions For Youngsters

By DONNA GRAY

Many young people, girls and boys, too, are overweight before they reach the age of 20.

We see fat children in every street, in every playground, in every school. They are not only fat, but they are also very young people.

A child who is so fat that he cannot run or play, and who is so fat that he cannot even walk, is a child who is in a very bad way. They are often made a good deal of, and they are often the cause of a great deal of trouble. They are often the cause of a great deal of trouble.

There is a great deal of trouble in the world, and there is a great deal of trouble in the world. There is a great deal of trouble in the world, and there is a great deal of trouble in the world. There is a great deal of trouble in the world, and there is a great deal of trouble in the world.

We are all in a great deal of trouble, and we are all in a great deal of trouble. We are all in a great deal of trouble, and we are all in a great deal of trouble. We are all in a great deal of trouble, and we are all in a great deal of trouble.

Chesterfield Wins

...for uniformity

Why does every Chesterfield have the same taste ... the same pleasing flavor and mildness.

Because we draw on not just one year's tobacco crop but crops of several different years to make sure that Chesterfield's quality never varies.

Every Chesterfield tastes just like every other Chesterfield—mild, not strong; always with a pleasing taste and aroma.

Chesterfields win because they're always the same...

JUNIOR BIRDMEN OF AMERICA

Rooming at No. 1 of 52 Dartmouth street, F. Brett, is one of the six members of the Junior firemen's squad "The Leaping Fish," which is known as one of the most outstandingly active groups in the city. For the past year, the members are becoming expert in building roofs, and, in the morning, studies in the study of aviation. In this article he uses firemen's tools as the "field," before choosing any special phase of aviation as a life work.

At the same time, however, it is known that the in vivo release of ^{125}I -labeled insulin from the in vitro prepared insulin vesicles is not as rapid as that of Martin's insulin vesicles. The reason for this is not clear, but it may be due to the fact that the in vitro prepared vesicles are not as uniform in size as the vesicles prepared by Martin.

It is not clear the extent to which the in vitro prepared vesicles are similar to the vesicles prepared by Martin. It is possible that the in vitro prepared vesicles are not as uniform in size as the vesicles prepared by Martin, and that the in vitro prepared vesicles are not as stable as the vesicles prepared by Martin.

Outlook
FOR FALL
Is Good

By HUGH F. BRADSHAW
The fall season opens with good prospects dominating the New England business scene and there seems every reason to believe that when final records are tabulated for the past five years will have fallen.

The big three of New England—textile, iron and steel, and machinery—have all shown a marked improvement in output during the first half of the year.

The iron and steel industry has been particularly active, with output up 10 per cent over the same period last year. The textile industry has also shown a marked improvement, with output up 5 per cent.

The machinery industry has also shown a marked improvement, with output up 10 per cent. The iron and steel industry has also shown a marked improvement, with output up 10 per cent.

Quiet

New York, Sept. 3.—Profit-taking shook down a number of stock market leaders today but many issues were resistant and assorted specialties pushed higher.

Trading was extremely quiet in the morning. Steel, however, was a notable exception, with a number of issues showing gains.

Business and industrial groups were still a bit uncertain, but the market was generally steady.

Further trading in the afternoon was quiet, with a few issues showing gains.

Steel was the only group that showed a marked improvement, with a number of issues showing gains.
